
In person courses and lectures

Seminar: Innovations in Artificial Intelligence and Their

Practical Applications | Czech

December 12, 2024, from 14:00

The seminar will present the latest advances in artificial intelligence and its practical applications in data analysis, working with professional literature, and teaching.

Čestmír Štuka, Jan Zeman, and Antonín Procházka will share their experiences and insights regarding the implementation of AI technologies in the academic world."

more info here

AI in context

AI in Context is a lecture series where experts present various perspectives on artificial intelligence in the context of different fields. The lectures by invited speakers alternate with seminars focused on discussing this issue. The lecture series is organized by the Institute of Formal and Applied Linguistics at Charles University.

<https://ufal.mff.cuni.cz/AlvK/>